Excerpt: . . . ing by most accounts, I would like to hear about the status of these efforts as they now stand. I am also increasingly concerned about the security of the cockpits on passenger airplanes, so much that I recently introduced a bill, S. 2497, which will require that cockpit doors remain closed while in flight unless the plane is fitted with mantrap doors which provide secure entrance and exit for the flight deck. These concerns are just the tip of the iceberg. I realize the enormity of your task. You can not fail. You must continue to work with us about your thoughts, your concerns, and your needs. The challenge remains to develop a system of security which considers all potential targets, recognizes every potential threat, and justifiably restores the confidence of the American people. We continue to expect this challenge to be met. Finally, I have been reading with keen interest about the lack of coordination between the intelligence agencies. In the Security Act,...
